Key knowledge – Contributions on the Modern World

In Ancient Greece there were two city states: The people in each state lived very different lives. Sparta was an oligarchy and warrior culture. Athens was a democracy based on trade. They all worshiped the Greek Gods like Zeus and Athena.

In addition to democracy (where citizens vote on decisions about their daily lives), the Ancient Greeks also gave us the roots of our language, geometry, the Olympic games and philosophy. Famous philosophers

Key knowledge – Wars and Alexander the Great

The Greeks fought many wars, often between themselves. The Trojan War is a myth or legend, it may or may not have happened. In the Battle of Thermopylae in 280BC, 300 Spartans are said to have fought a huge invading Persian army.

In 336BC, at 19, Alexander became King of Macedonia. He quickly conquered all of Ancient Greece, expanded his empire then
